

Code of Conduct – Weekly Club Training Sessions

Players will show respect towards the following in every meeting of the RCACC:

- Other players
- Opponents
- Parent Volunteers
- RCACC Coach
- The Boards, pieces, clocks, and all equipment
- The game of Chess
- Themselves

During a chess club training session, players are expected to participate in all training exercises. Players will avoid using all electronic devices (i.e. computers, phones, digital music players. etc.) during the course of the training sessions unless being used as a move recording device or an electronic clock for games.

Horseplay, throwing pieces, and obscene behavior or language will not be tolerated by RCACC. In the event of any behavior found to be in violation of the Club Mission or the above rules will be verbally warned on a first offense and then will be asked to leave the club event upon a second offense. In order to return, the player must apologize to the Club members and the Club Officers.
